MITCHELL HALL.

Mitchell Hall is the College Dormitory for young women.

Y. W. C. A.

THE Y. W. C. A. has been very active in every line of work since its organization in 1894. It may include all who belong to any evangelical church. Prayers are held every morning fifteen minutes before the first recitation hour; the regular weekly prayer meetings are held on Sunday mornings. A missionary class has been organized by those who wish to study the lives of missionaries and their fields.

A Bible class is formed each fall to take the time and place of Sunday School during the school year. The society gives for the support of Mrs. Annie Rhea Wilson in Persia, and to the State fund, besides sending delegates to many of the conventions to stimulate work and keep in touch with herto societies. It is also the custom to send at least one delegate to the summer conference at Lake Geneva.

Literary Society.

AN especially interesting feature of the life of the college women is the Aletheian Literary Society. Its object is to make its members more capable and confident in appearing in public, and to improve them in all lines of literary activity.

An annual reception and open meeting lend pleasing variety to the regular meetings held each Friday evening of the college year. Reception Oct. 1, 1898.

Ladies' Glee Club.

This organization consists of all the young ladies who are deemed fitted for membership according to the judgment of the leader. A "sextette" and a "trio" add much to the enjoyable features of the hall.

Athletics.

SINCE the old jingle concerning "all work and no play" is perhaps even more applicable to Jill than to Jack, the femininities of this institution put all their strength and spare time into basket ball during the winter months. But when the warm spring days appear, the greensward by Mitchell Hall is dotted with tennis players, who put in hard practice for the yearly tournament.

A golf club has been organized, and it is hoped that golf will be as pleasant and delightful as the other games have proved.

College Songs..

Lake Forest dear, our alma mater,
Thy praise we sing with heart and voice;
Thy red and black float proudly o'er us
And in thy glory we rejoice.
As stand thy brave old trees about thee,
Strong as thy lake's fierce waves in storm,
So stand thy children to defend thee,
While love in every heart beats warm.

Lake Forest, when farewell we bid thee
And from thy College halls depart,
As when, by land or sea divided
The love of country fills the heart;
When courage fails, our hopes are dying,
Our thoughts shall ever turn to thee,
Our watch-word be, till time is ended,
"For God, Lake Forest, Victory!"

Beneath thy forest shades reclining,
We gather knowledge at thy feet.
The happy days pass all too quickly
With friendships bright and pleasures meet;
And when, in after years, life's striving
Shall turn our joy to care and pain,
The loves and friends of alma mater,
Our richest treasure shall remain.
